Changes in net revenues as compared to the second quarter of the prior year were primarily driven by:

- Glucagon sales increased primarily due to an increase in unit volumes, as a result of two suppliers discontinuing their glucagon injection products at the end of 2022
- Phytonadione sales increased due to increased unit volumes, as a result of supplier shortages
- $\bullet$  Primatene MIST  $^{\circledR}$  sales decreased due to a decrease in unit volumes, as a result of inventory drawdowns by retailers
- The decrease in sales of epinephrine and lidocaine was primarily due to a decrease in unit volumes, as a result of suppliers returning to their historical distribution levels
- The decrease in sales of enoxaparin and naloxone was primarily due to a decrease in unit volumes
- Other finished pharmaceutical product sales increased primarily due to:
  - An increase in unit volumes for dextrose, atropine, calcium chloride, and sodium bicarbonate, due to increasing demand caused by supplier shortages
  - $\circ~$  A full quarter of sales for ganirelix and vasopressin, which were launched in June 2022 and August 2022, respectively
  - Launch of regadenoson in April 2023
- Active Pharmaceutical ingredient ("API") sales increased primarily due to the timing of customer purchases

Changes in the cost of revenues and gross margin were primarily driven by:

- Increased sales of higher-margin products such as glucagon and epinephrine, the sales of ganirelix and vasopressin that were launched in 2022, as well as the sales of regadenoson, which we launched in April 2023
- These factors were partially offset by an impairment charge of $2.7 million related to the impairment of the IMS (UK) international product rights, as well as charges included in cost of revenue to adjust our inventory and related purchase commitments to their net realizable value

- Selling, distribution, and marketing expenses increased primarily due to increased advertising expenses for Primatene  ${\sf MIST}^{\circledR}$
- General and administrative expenses increased primarily due to an increase in salary and personnel-related expenses, as well as costs related to the acquisition of BAQSIMI®
- Research and development expenses decreased due to:
  - Decreases in materials and supply expense, as a result of a ramp-up of expenses in 2022 for AMP-018 and our insulin pipeline products
  - This decrease was partially offset by an increase in salary and personnel-related expenses and an increase in clinical trial expenses related to our insulin and inhalation product pipeline
- The change in non-operating income (expense), net is primarily a result of:
  - Foreign currency fluctuations
  - Mark-to-market adjustments relating to our interest rate swap contracts
  - $^{\circ}$  Costs incurred in connection with the syndicated credit agreement we entered into with Wells Fargo Bank, as syndication agent, to finance the acquisition of BAQSIMI®

To supplement its consolidated financial statements, which are prepared and presented in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), the Company is disclosing non-GAAP financial measures when providing financial results. The Company believes that an evaluation of its ongoing operations (and comparisons of its current operations with historical and future operations) would be difficult if the disclosure of its financial results were limited to financial measures prepared only in accordance with GAAP. As a result, the Company is disclosing certain non-GAAP results, including (i) Adjusted non-GAAP net income (loss) and (ii) Adjusted non-GAAP diluted EPS, which exclude amortization expense, share-based compensation, impairment charges, legal settlements, and other one-time events in order to supplement investors' and other readers' understanding and assessment of the Company's financial performance because the Company's management uses these measures internally for forecasting, budgeting, and measuring its operating performance. Whenever the Company uses such non-GAAP measures, it will provide a reconciliation of non-GAAP financial measures to their most directly comparable GAAP financial measures. Investors and other readers are encouraged to review the related GAAP financial measures and the reconciliation of non-GAAP measures to their most directly comparable GAAP measures set forth below and should consider non-GAAP measures only as a supplement to, not as a substitute for or as a superior measure to, measures of financial performance prepared in accordance with GAAP.
